Nonfiction Text Features

ABOUT ME!

This little lapbook is a great project for the beginning of the school year OR for reviewing different nonfiction text features at any time! Students will need a large piece of construction paper or a file folder to use as the base.

Guess Who Game

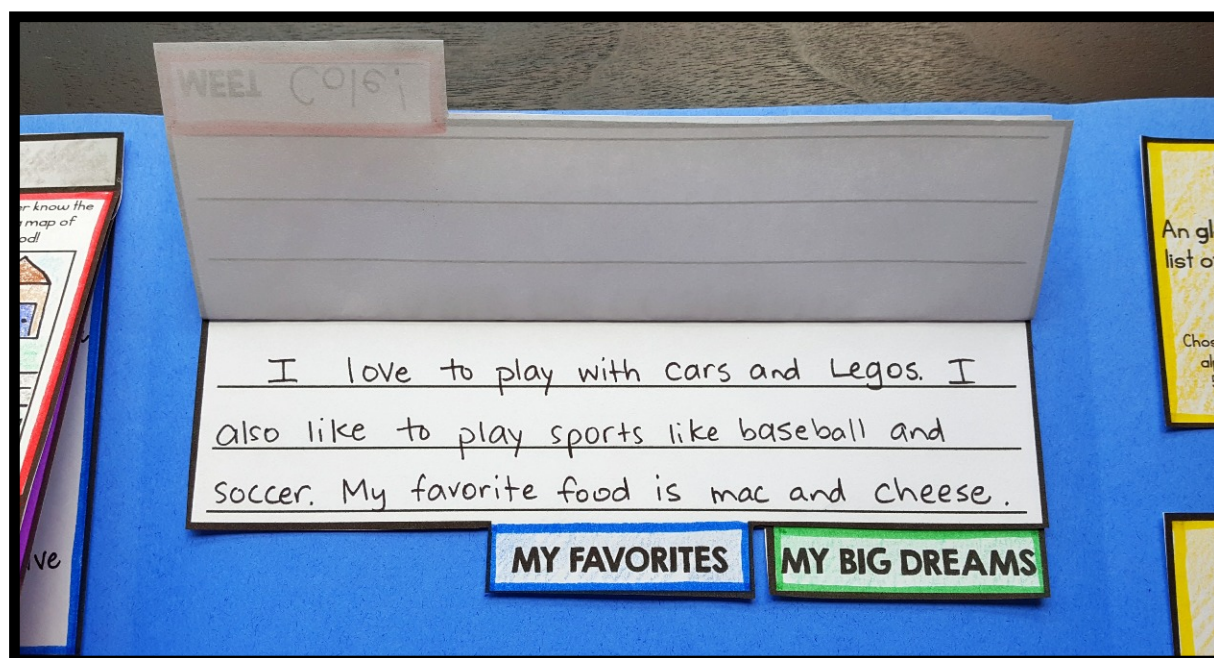

This project can also be done as a "Guess Who!" type game. Simply have students hide or leave their name off the lapbook. You can also post the photograph UNDER the photograph flap instead of on top, and remind students not to use their name anywhere in the project.

As always, I recommend creating lapbooks one section at a time, and modeling first. Lapbooks can be created over a series of days or all at once (if you have the time!)

NOTE: When copying the "Glossary" pages, you'll only need to run a half set! There are 2 on a page!
